We do our best to keep the information we collect about you to the minimum necessary.

The information we collect depends upon how you are interacting with us. For example, if you're booking a trip with us we are likely to ask for more information than if you're only requesting a brochure or browsing our website. We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal information about you, which we have summarised in the box below.

Details from your interactions with us: Information about interactions or conversations with us and our staff, including when you make enquiries, comments, complaints or submit feedback to us. This could also include username and password and your interests, marketing preferences and survey responses.

Your use of our systems and services: This includes how you use our site, customer support and/or social media pages, IP addresses and information you may post on social media.

Special types of data: In some circumstances we may need to collect information from you that is deemed sensitive. For example, we might collect:

- Data about your health. Knowing your dietary requirements, any medical conditions you have and information about your fitness will ensure that the trip is suitable for you and any necessary adjustments are made.
- Information about your religion (for example if you specify a meal preference that indicates a particular religion, such as a kosher or halal meal).

We try to limit any sensitive personal data we collect to the minimum possible. Unless we have a specific lawful reason to use this information, we will ask for your consent to collect it.

INFORMATION WE COLLECT FROM MINORS

The information we collect from young people under the age of 18 years will be with the consent of their guardian. If a young person over the age of 13 years completes an online application we will hold the data until parental consent is gained. 13 years old is the age at which personal consent can be given as per the Data Protection Bill. If parental consent is not given, this data is deleted.

The data we collect is detailed in the 'What information we might collect about you' section. This includes special types of data; information about fitness, medical conditions and information about religion (for example if a meal preference indicates a particular religion, such as kosher or halal meal). We collect this data to allow us to plan and deliver the trip you have signed up to.

We may need to share this data, including medical information with Healix, our private medical and security partner during your trip. We will only do this in the event of an injury, emergency or if we are legitimately concerned about your health and wellbeing.

We keep you up to date with our latest offers, partnerships, sales, promotions, competitions (or those of our partners such as other members of the Travelopia group) that we think might be of interest/relevance to you.
